Extempore

(06/09/2023)

REPORT

10th September, 2023

Objective: The 'Extempore' event, organized by Technical Communication House, primarily aimed at encouraging communication skills, critical thinking and creativity among the participants.

Date: 6th September, 2023

Timing: 6:00 PM-7:30 PM

Duration: 1.5 hours

Venue: VLTC 008

Total Participants: 24

Event Highlights:

The event began with a warm welcome by the host, who outlined the format and structure of the event. Participants were given a clear understanding of how the event would proceed, generating excitement among the attendees.

Before the official rounds began, a demonstration was held to ensure that all participants were familiar with the format.

A unique and fascinating feature of the "Extempore" event was the use of playing cards. Each participant was asked to choose a card from a shuffled deck of playing cards. The card they selected determined the topic they would be speaking on. This random selection added an element of surprise and excitement to the competition.

A corresponding image was then projected onto the screen after the topics were assigned. Then the participants had to give an impromptu speech on the topic shown in the picture. This task required them to think quickly, organize and effectively communicate their ideas. The discussion covered a wide range of interesting topics like "brainwash", "music on, world off", "nostalgic school days", "history and civics" and many others.

Participants Feedback:

The event received positive feedback from participants, who praised its wide variety of challenges and how it helped them to improve their impromptu speaking skills.

Glimpses of the event